

THE EXHIBITION OPENS

The Exhibition was opened on 2 May 1896 by the King of Hungary, Franz-József and the Queen, as depicted in this copy of a contemporary sketch.

Contemporary postcard illustrating the opening celebrations. The posed front line in the image shows costumed people from many lands. In the background is the royal canopy depicted in the drawing above.

Card published by Edgar Schmidt of Dresden.

